Its rich history, distinctive translation choices, and cultural significance make it a fascinating subject for both scholars and devout believers alike. This version of the Bible reflects centuries of theological development, linguistic evolution, and deep-rooted traditions specific to the Ethiopian Christian community. In this review, we will explore its origins, textual features, translation philosophy, cultural significance, and practical considerations for modern readers.

Origins and Historical Background

The Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahedo Church is one of the oldest Christian denominations, with roots tracing back to the 4th century AD. The Bible used by this church has historically been based on the Ge'ez language, an ancient Semitic language of Ethiopia. Over the centuries, translations of the Bible into Ge'ez became central to the church?s liturgy and theology.

The Ethiopian Orthodox English Bible is a relatively modern translation aimed at making the sacred texts accessible to English-speaking followers and interested scholars worldwide. Its development was driven by the desire to preserve the doctrinal integrity of the Ethiopian tradition while providing a readable, accurate translation in English.

Historically, the translation efforts have been influenced by the church's unique biblical canon, which includes books not found in the Protestant or Catholic canons, such as Enoch, Jubilees, and other apocryphal texts, recognized as canonical within the Ethiopian tradition. This canon's expansion influences the content and structure of the Ethiopian Orthodox English Bible.

Translation Philosophy and Approach

The translation philosophy of the Ethiopian Orthodox English Bible is characterized by a balance between literal accuracy and faithfulness to the original texts, with particular attention to maintaining theological nuances unique to the Ethiopian tradition.

The Ge'ez Language: An Ancient Semitic Language

The foundation of the Ge'ez Bible is rooted in the Ge'ez language, an ancient Semitic language that was once widely spoken in the Ethiopian Highlands. Ge'ez is considered a liturgical language today, similar to Latin in the Roman Catholic Church, used primarily in religious ceremonies and texts. It evolved from earlier Semitic languages and was the scholarly and ecclesiastical language of Ethiopia for centuries.

Development of Christianity in Ethiopia

Christianity was introduced to Ethiopia very early, traditionally attributed to the Apostle Philip or the influence of the Queen of Sheba's son, Menelik I. By the 4th century AD, Christianity had become the state religion under King Ezana of Axum. The translation of biblical texts into Ge'ez played a crucial role in establishing and consolidating Christianity in Ethiopia.

The Translation of the Bible into Ge'ez

The Ge'ez Bible is believed to have been translated from Greek and Syriac sources during the early centuries of Christianity in Ethiopia, likely between the 4th and 6th centuries AD. The translation process was driven by Christian scholars and monks dedicated to preserving sacred scripture in their native language. Over time, the Ge'ez Bible became the canonical scripture for the Ethiopian Orthodox Tewahedo Church and other Ethiopian Christian denominations.
