The Impact of COVID-19 on the Tennis Calendar

Cancellations and Postponements

The outbreak of COVID-19 in early 2020 sent shockwaves through the global sporting community, and tennis was no exception. Major tournaments faced unprecedented disruptions:

- All Major Tours Halted: The ATP and WTA tours suspended play in March, halting competitions across all levels.
- Grand Slam Rescheduling: The French Open, originally scheduled for late May and early June, was postponed to late September ? a rare occurrence in tennis history. The US Open was also moved from late August to late August-early September, maintaining its position but with significant adjustments.
- Cancelled Tournaments: Several ATP, WTA, and ITF events, especially those held in Asia, Africa, and South America, were canceled or postponed indefinitely.

The Creation of the 'Bubble' Model

To resume play safely, organizers adopted innovative measures:

- The Western & Southern Open as a Test Case: Held in New York in August, this tournament marked the first high-profile event after the suspension, operating within a 'bubble' environment.
- U.S. Open Bubble: The US Open in New York was conducted behind closed doors, with strict health protocols, regular testing, and limited personnel.
- European 'Bubble': The French Open and the subsequent tournaments in Europe employed bubble setups in Paris and various locations to minimize COVID-19 transmission risks.
